Life! we've been long together,
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis hard to part when friends
are dear;
Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh, a tear;—
Then steal away, give little warning,
Choose thine own time;
Say not Good night, but in a happier
clime
Give me good morning.

Life! we've been long together
Through pleasant and through cloudy weather;
'Tis well to part when friends we fear
Then steal away; toll your own sad knell

Nevertheless it would seem ridiculous ~~that the~~ that the patterned, ~~vast~~, ordered system of this vast universe would permit such waste as ~~the~~ ~~the human race produce~~ of Shakespeare ~~permit Shakespeare to die~~ the Elgin marbles, Da Vinci's the paintings, Beethoven the music — all to no final purpose. * Page 5 ~~It seems unthinkable to~~ me, too, that this little smudge-spot of a ~~world~~ planet should be the only inhabited spot in a system of incalculable vastness.

A life — or lives — hereafter seems the one justice that can reconcile us to this world living our lives out.

But perhaps exist other worlds to whose civilized seers the poetry of Shakespeare would seem like nursery rhymes, the Elgin marbles the uncouth creations of savage children; the paintings of Da Vinci the daubed smearings of teen-age vandals; the music of Beethoven the primitive jangling of a tribal chant

✓ Episode of Grace Gookin

Then Kitty Dillars as pretty as her name — her silken dark curls making a background for a delicately-tinted oval of her face or a delicately-cut profile

later of Nan (Murphy)

Mamie Hibbard — red-headed and green-eyed — with the great red blotches on her face and the thick, black tartar on her teeth that betokened

Lake Village

the complete ignorance of the day of correct diet

Gertie Johnson —

Maggie Sullivan — a perfect type of the Spanish strain in Ireland begotten by the Arm sturdy, earthy with her springy, warm curly-locked black curls and her great eyes

Lutie Latham delicate as a miniature luxury of blue eyes; faint color of rose-petal cheeks and rose-color lips

Ella Howard lame, red-headed brown-eyed, long and slim-handed the family hand

Nettie Pierce — so dark, so slight, so spirited, so proud; like a foal, quivering with pride and sensitivity miniatures in P. Killefer's home

They hang in my mind like the lovely

Where are they now?
